

Notice to New Hires (Army only)

Does your position in the Washington Army National Guard Technician Program have workplace hazards such as exposure to noise? If yes, you are required to contact the occupational health office to schedule a hearing exam or physical as needed. (Examples include jobs working with track or wheeled vehicles, or a job in the warehouse -- could be either a WG/WL/WS or GS grade)

Not sure if your job requires a physical? -- Ask your supervisor or call the occupational health office.

Who do I call?

Call this number (253) 912-3834 for appointment times.

How do I get to the occupational health office?

Acknowledgement:

I understand that I am required to contact the occupational health office within my first week of employment as a National Guard Technician.
